APPENDIX B

December 1987

Inventory of Individual Programs

883/350

This volume constitutes Part II of the Cabinet-Level Education and Employment Coordinating Committee Report to the Legislature on the Massachusetts Training and Employment System. It contains an inventory of more than 40 individual programs covering the full scope of training, employment-related education, and placement programs funded by state and federal monies.

The survey was designed to be quantitative and descriptive, but not necessarily qualitative and evaluative. Information was obtained on overall funding, the types of services provided, client access and eligibility, the delivery of services, planned service levels, job retention studies, and demographics. The development of a coordinated data collection system, as outlined in section VIII of the report, will greatly enhance our ability to provide more detailed management information in the future.

The scope of the CLEECC's analysis of the Massachusetts Training and Employment system has been broad. As a result, this inventory is, also. It embraces a number of programs including the Department of Education, Board of Regents, and Human Services, which have not always been considered an integral part of the state's overall training and employment system.

Specific questions on the inventory should be addressed directly to the agency involved. Additional copies of the report and the inventory are available from the Executive Office of Economic Affairs, 727-8380.

JTPA Governor's Grants include two programmatic grants, the Older Workers Program and Education Coordination Program, plus a performance incentive and state administrative grant. By Federal law the Older Workers and Education Coordination programs represent 50% of the total Governor's Grant funding. Funds received for performance incentives are utilized to reward Service Delivery Areas whose basic JTPA programs' performance exceeds the state's standards for wages and placement rates, and other performance indicators, as well as to reward SDAs serving disproportionate numbers of clients with particularly severe barriers to employment. Funds received for state administration are used to cover the costs of program oversight at the state level, management information systems, and financial audits.

VII. ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

This inventory reflects only federal funds used for vocational education. It does not reflect the more than $220 M raised at the local level and spent on vocational education in regional vocational technical schools and comprehensive high schools.

The dollar spending requirements for services in Title IIA ($18 M) of the federal Perkins Act include the following categories: handicapped (10%), academically or economically disadvantaged and limited English-speaking (22%), adult training/retraining (12%), single parents and homeworkers (8.5%), elimination of sex bias in vocational education (3.5%), correctional inmates (1%), and program expansion and improvement including curriculum and professional development (43%). Approximately $800,000 (Title III of Perkins Act) is for consumer/homemaking services which has been targeted for pregnant and parenting teens. $130,000 is allocated for cooperative programs between school district and community-based organizations.

VII. ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

In FY'87 new standards for priority placements were established by the Department of Public Welfare to include factors as wage level, and comprehensive health care coverage.

A job is "counted" only when the person has stayed in the job at least 30 days.

No client is counted more than once in a given year, even though the client may receive job services more than once.
